FOOTBALL WRITER - Full time, paid position.

Breaking Media Limited, a fast-growing UK publisher with a portfolio of eight football sites including the industry-leading Football Insider, is seeking a talented, dynamic and knowledgeable football writer to join its growing team.

Suitable candidates will be the following:

* A football writer currently working as a journalist on a well-established website or who has gathered extensive freelance experience on football sites after graduating with a journalism degree or NCTJ qualification.

Applicants must have a passion for football writing, be able to deliver vibrant, clean copy to exacting deadlines and have a strong news sense and ability to sell content in an extremely competitive field.

Requirements include:

- An excellent knowledge of young players (22 and under) at an elite level with an emphasis on British football.
- Ability to work self-sufficiently, generate own football stories and write engaging, shareable and error-free copy to tight deadlines
- Ability to digest information from multiple sources and turn it into an engaging piece
- The role is largely written, but an ability to contribute and produce engaging video and audio is important
- Excellent knowledge of rising stars in the Premier League (essential), the Football League (important) and Scottish Premiership (desirable).
- You must be passionate about football player development with a strong eye for the stars of tomorrow.
- You must follow Under-23s and Under-18s football at the elite clubs.

Previous digital experience is essential and, if you are a recent graduate, you will only be considered if you have previously worked on football websites or undertaken extensive work experience on football websites.

The above list is constantly evolving and not exhaustive, based on the needs of the business.

The job

This is a full-time position that will be based at home.

It is ideal as an entry-level job, or for a second job in the industry for someone keen to work for a dynamic, growing company that rewards performance and success.

Standard shifts are five days a week, including weekend work, with starting times staggered through the day for around-the-clock publication times.

You may be asked to participate in a short trial to make sure both sides are happy, before being offered a full-time, paid contract.

Salary is dependent upon experience and track record, but we operate a generous bonus scheme that is available immediately to all writers.

Please send an up-to-date CV, a cover note about yourself and why you'd be perfect for our team to jobvacancies@breakingmedialimited.com. For those more experienced journalists, please support your application by uploading recent Google Analytics or similar statistics.

If we think you are an ideal candidate, we will be in touch soon. We are an equal opportunity employer.
